

EEMA Launches Consortium Partner Panel for Participation in EU Project Proposals

Membership Provides Early Invitation to Collaborate on Funded

Trust, Privacy and Identity Initiatives

BRUSSELS, 14th JUNE 2017 - EEMA, the leading independent not for profit, European think tank focussing on identification, authentication, privacy, risk management, cyber security, the Internet of Things and mobile applications, today launched its Consortium Partner Panel. The initiative will enable EEMA members to participate in proposals for funded EU projects.

The EEMA Consortium Partner Panel is free to join for current and new eligible members and provides many exclusive benefits including...

- Early invitations to join EEMA in funded EU Project Proposals
- Public profile on the project consortium page of the EEMA website
- Complimentary access to EEMA lounges at conferences, where available

Chair of EEMA, Jon Shamah states: “The EEMA membership is comprised of some of the most innovative organisations and creative minds working in identity, trust and privacy throughout Europe. The new Consortium Partner Panel provides a way for EEMA members to access and collaborate with us on significant upcoming EU-funded projects, as well as enjoying a host of exclusive benefits.”

For many years EEMA has been a major contributor to large European projects including FutureID, STORK, STORK 2.0 and SSEDIC. It is currently involved in two major EU-fund projects - FutureTrust, which is addressing the need for eIDAS compliant globally interoperable solutions, and LIGHTest which is developing a lightweight trust infrastructure that provides parties of electronic transactions with automatic validation of trust based on their individual trust policies. “These are the types of high-profile and hugely important projects members of the Consortium Partner Panel can look forward to being invited to get involved with,” adds Shamah.
