EEMA High Level Fireside Briefing: Prepare your board for a cybersecurity attack: Your reputation gone in 60 seconds? 27 June, 6:00 pm - 8:30 pm, London

Have you registered this latest High Level Fireside Briefing? If not, do so now as these meetings are very popular and places are limited. The topic is clearly of great importance to our industry. As Chair of EEMA, Jon Shamah, who will be hosting the debate, says: "The recent news about ransomware attacks around the world highlights the importance of being able to prepare members of the board to respond to customers, partners and the media in a timely and appropriate manner."

Guest speakers at the meeting will be Rod Clayton who co-leads the Global Issues Group of Weber Shandwick, a leading public relations firm. His cyber experience spans information security, data protection, intellectual property and privacy issues. He will be joined by Richard Preece, a hybrid consultant and leader, who connects business and technical leadership, so they can maximise the opportunities and minimise the risks of the digital age.

At this EEMA High Level Fireside we will explain how and when to engage, inform and educate the board in order to achieve the best possible outcome in the event of a cyberattack. Further information

EEMA's 30th Annual Conference: Privacy vs Identity – Opportunity and Challenges 4 – 5 July 2017, London: Isn't it time you registered?

The EEMA Annual Conference provides a forum for sharing real life experiences and learning from experts in the field. By coming along you will benefit from our cutting-edge educational programme featuring the latest developments in information security identity management and e-ID cards; and gain expert advice on emerging threats and the key challenges ahead. You will also get the chance to experience hands-on demonstrations of the latest solutions from specialist suppliers. This year our first keynote speakers will be:

- Siim Sikkut, CIO of Estonia: Challenges of building a digital society
- Dave Birch, Director of Innovation, Consult Hyperion: IOT – Identity for the new world.

The keynotes will be followed by a panel discussion: The vision of future trends and technologies. It will be led by three eminent speakers

- Brandon Murdoch, Partner Software Engineer, Identity Division, Microsoft
- Guillaume Forget, Director, Cryptomathic
- Julian Ranger, Chairman, digi.me.

Thereafter the conference will divide into separate tracks, allowing you to pick and choose from over 30 different sessions including:

- Guidelines for parties relying on QTSPs
- Principles of identification for sustainable development: Towards the digital age
- Privacy vs. identity
- Sustainable solutions
- H2020
- Impact of artificial intelligence for the digital economy
- Mobile enabling the data-value exchange. Consumer insights and use cases
- Regulation and legal perspectives on eSignatures, identity & privacy

- The Kantara Initiative
- IAM & KYC challenges in banking/finance
- Can you have privacy & IOT or will monetisation corrupt?
- Blockchain
- GDPR - Will you be compliant before May 2018?

There will also be a chance for you to choose topics for a series of informal round table debates. So if your remit has anything to do with security and/or identity, can you really afford not to participate?

If you have not yet registered, visit the website now, view the full programme and be sure to join us next month. We look forward to welcoming you in London.
